

Fee Structure

In order to have products rated by the ECRC, a company must first become an ECRC member or pay fees for every sample according to Table 1. If a company have products rated by the CRRC; in order to include those products into the ECRC database, the company must commit to become and remain member of ECRC for 3 years. All forms and agreements are available for download from the Product Rating Program section of the ECRC website, <http://coolroofcouncil.eu>. For more complete details about the ECRC Product Rating Program, please refer to the ECRC Product Rating Program Manual. The fee structure for ECRC members can be seen on

Table 2. For a laboratory to participate on the product rating program it has to pay fees accordingly to Table 1. All payments will be done via bank transfer to ECRC bank account in Brussels, Belgium.

Table 1 Product rating Fees

Status	Free products per year	Cost of additional products (€/product)
Non ECRC member	-	400
ECRC member – Type A	10	60
ECRC member – Type B	20	60
ECRC member – Type C	30	60
ECRC member – Type D	40	60

Table 2 ECRC membership fees

ECRC Membership Fees	Company turnover		Annual Membership Fees
Cool Roof Raw Material Producers, Final Product Manufacturers, Applicators, Distributors, Wholesalers, other commercial and / or trading companies	Type A Organisation	<€1,000,000	€1000
	Type B Organisation	Between €1,000,001 €5,000,000	€2000
	Type C Organisation	Between €5,000,001 and €10,000,000	€3000
	Type D Organisation	>€10,000,001	€4000
Cool Roof Promotion and Specification	Cool roof specifiers, promoters and educational institution or not for profit centre	Architects, consultants, energy service companies and other interested individuals. Non-profit groups, government agencies, educational institutions, code bodies, other trade associations	€350
Other	Laboratory and test farm annual fees		€1000, 35% discount to ECRC members

Table 3 Laboratories fees

	First year of Product Rating Program	After the first year
Members (AITL, AMTL)	0 €	35% discount on lab fee
No members	500 €	1000 €